PART-A

1. Objective type questions

(24 X 2= 48)

(i) Read the following passage and answer the questions given below:-
(4X2=8)

John Dalton was an English Chemist whose atomic theory is the basis of Chemistry. Dalton could not distinguish red from green. In 1784, he was the first to describe colour blindness which came to be known as, Daltonism. The word is still used in French, Spanish and Russian. After his death, the from London and Cambridge examined DNA from fragments of Dalton's eyes prescribed at his request by the Manchester Literary and Philosophical Society, and have shown that he lacked the gene for making green pigment in the retina. Dalton who lived from 1766 to 1844 gave instructions for his eyes to be examined after his death. He had believed that the vitreous humour, the clear substance in the inner chamber of the eyes must, in his case, be tinted blue so that it absorbed red light. At the autopsy, no such blue tint was found. But from Dalton's perception of how he perceived light, scientists have concluded that he must have lacked the pigment in the retina that is sensitive to red light.

A. Which colours could not be distinguished by Dalton?

- (a) red from blue
- (b) red from yellow
- (c) red from green
- (d) blue from green

(ii) Read the following passage and answer the questions given below: (4X2=8)

One night, a man came to our house and told me, "There is a family with eight children. They have not eaten for days." I took some food and went out. When I finally came to the family, I saw the faces of those little children disfigured by hunger. There was no sorrow or sadness in their faces, just the deep pain of hunger. I gave the rice to the mother. She divided it in two and went out, carrying half the rice with her. When she came back, I asked her, "Where did you go?" She gave me this simple answer, "to my neighbor-they are also hungry." I was not surprised because poor people are generous but I was surprised that she knew they were hungry. As a rule, when we are suffering, we are so focused on ourselves; we have no time for others. We become selfish and self-centered. Having experienced the pangs of suffering, We should, rather, extend helping hands to the poor and the needy.

A. The faces of the children reflected:

- (a) sorrow
- (b) joy
- (c) hunger
- (d) greediness

B. The action of the mother shows:

- (a) selfishness
- (b) hatred
- (c) gratitude
- (d) love

C. The faces of the children were disfigured by hunger. (True/False)

D. Match the words in column A with their opposites in column B:

A	B
simple	complicated
generous	hatred
	selfish

Read the stanza and answer the questions that follow:-

Till the little ones, weary
 No more can be merry
 The sun does descend
 And our sports have an end.
 Round the laps of their mothers
 Many sisters and brothers,
 Like birds in their nest,
 Are ready for rest,
 And sports no more seen,
 On the darkening green.

Speech is a great blessing, but it can also be a curse, for, while it helps us to make our intentions and desires known to our fellows, it can also, if we use it carelessly, make our attitude completely misunderstood. A slip of tongue, the use of an unusual or ambiguous word and soon, may create an enemy where we had hopes to win a friend. Again different classes of people use different vocabularies, and the ordinary speech of an educated man may strike an uneducated listener as showing pride. Thus, speech is not a gift to use lightly without thought.
