(a) Then Baba Amar Das decided to stay on at Khadur Sahib and placed himself at the services of Guru Angad Dev. Immediate effect of the meeting was that he adopted a life of solitude and spent his valuable time in meditation without even caring of his own person. So much so engaged in meditation, he even did not think of his family and house. Though it was not according to Sikh way of life, yet Guru Angad continued to watch him closely without any interfering and remained indifferent. After a lapse of time Baba Amar Das realised that meditation is no doubt important in the Sikh way of life but this alone would not be considered adequate. To meet the approval of the Guru it must be accompanied by Service (SEWA). He fully realised that it was practically life to be lived in the midst of society. In fact, it was really the first lesson he had learnt and never forgot this moral. "It was his firm conviction that the service of the Guru is a virtue of the first order through which the SEWAK achieves union of swami and attains mukti, the highest state of existence.

Read the above paragraph and write the answers of the following questions:

1. Where did Guru Angad Dev Ji live?
2. What was the daily routine of Baba Amar Das Ji there?
3. What is the importance of meditation?
4. What is most important, according to Sikh way of life?
5. What lesson did Baba Amar Das Ji get while living with Guru Angad Dev Ji?

(b) In 1519 A.D., Zahir-ud-Din Muhammad Babur, the king of Kabul, invaded Punjab. Firstly, Babur conquered Bajaur. At the same time he annexed Bhera also. Inspired by his conquests, Babur sent one of his messengers Mullah Murshid to Ibrahim Lodhi. Daulat Khan Lodhi stopped the messengers at Lahore. Babur entrusted the administration of his conquered areas to Hindu Beg and himself returned to Kabul. After some time, the people of Bhera revolted and forced Hindu Beg to run away. This irritated Babur and he again invaded Punjab in September 1519 A.D., after conquering Bhera once again, Babur conquered Sialkot also. From here Babur proceeded towards Sayyidpur (Eminabad). The defence forces of Sayyidpur resisted the invading army of Babur very bravely. Ultimately, Babur became victorious and killed the defence force. The people of Sayyidpur were treated inhumanly. Many people were enslaved. Guru Nanak Dev ji was also imprisoned. Guru Nanak Dev ji has described these atrocities in his Baburbani.

Read the above paragraph and write the answers of the following questions:

1. Describe the invasion of Babur?
2. Who was Mullah Murshid?
3. To whom Babur entrusted the administration of conquered areas?
